ABOUT THE GALLERY

The Leslie Wolfe Gallery continues to break new ground by offering exhibit space for emerging artists, students, instructors, and established artists. Exhibits are on display for four weeks, kicked off with a weekend reception. The Gallery is named after local artist and community advocate, Leslie Wolfe, who was dedicated to the arts and artists. Her passion is reflected in the jury's selections each month.

The Old Town Triangle Association was established in 1948 as a nonprofit neighborhood organization for residents who live and work in the area. Members pledge to preserve the architectural integrity of buildings in the Triangle, to improve open spaces and green areas, and to support cultural, educational, and recreational activities that would improve community life. The Old Town Art Center was founded in 1956 to promote art study and appreciation in the neighborhood.
